We, at StudyIQ, believe that discipline and consistency are the core values required for UPSC aspirants to turn their dream of becoming an IAS officer into a reality.

The discipline and consistency cannot be measured in quantity. However, if an aspirant has an option of planning a particular day or a month and keep track of what they have achieved for that day or month, it becomes far easy to keep track of one's own consistency and discipline. Such a tracking will help UPSC aspirants in making incremental improvements.

Being on track with preparation with the required level of intent and motivation is a challenging task. This is where the role of Mentor comes in. The mentor will be your friend, philosopher and guide throughout the journey of your preparation.

To help UPSC aspirants with the tracking of their goals and help them maintain consistency in their preparation, the StudyIQ brings this diary called 'My UPSC Journey'.

This diary has following features:

1. Subject tracker containing all the UPSC subjects.
2. Revision tracker to keep track of periodic revisions.
3. Monthly goals page with separate GS and Optional space.
4. Daily Agenda pages to help you plan the day on a micro-level.
5. Monthly Review page to help you analyse completion of targets.
6. Diary is without dates/months to provide you with flexibility.

With the help of your mentor, you can utilise your precious time of preparation effectively and efficiently. Mentorship through Prelims to Interview (P2I) course will be your ultimate 'Saarthi' in reaching LBSNAA.
