Mains Practical Questions

Ques 1. A person entitled to the possession of Specific immovable property may recover it in the manner provided by Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Explain with the help of Specific Relief Act.

Recovery of specific immovable property is under Section 5 of Specific Relief Act, 1963. When a person is entitled to the possession of specific immovable property, he can recover the same by filing a suit as provided in CPC, 1908. He may file a suit for ejectment on the basis of the strength of his title and get a decree for ejectment. Then he may execute the decree in accordance with the provisions of CPC. He cannot take the law in his own hands and obtain possession of his property by force, even though he is entitled to the same. It is a well settled principle of law that a person, who has been in a long continuous possession of the immovable property, can protect the same by seeking an injunction against any person in the world other than the true owner. It is also a settled principle of law that owner of the property can get back his possession only by resorting to due process of law. It states that a suit for possession must be filed having regard to the provision of the Code of Civil Procedure.

For ex., if 'A' agrees to convey some specific immovable property to 'B' and also handover the possession, 'B' can file a suit against 'A' requiring 'A' to fulfil the promise and handover the possession.

In the case of "East India Hotels Ltd. Vs Syndicate Bank", it was held that the essence of this section is "title", i.e., the person who has better title is entitled to the possession. The title may be of ownership or possession. If "X" enters into peaceful possession of land claiming his own although he has no title, still he has the right to sue another who has ousted him from possession because he might have no legal title but at least has possessory title.

From the aforementioned facts, it also can be inferred that a decision on a specified part of the property in question may not constitute res judicata in respect of any subsequent proceedings in the matter of the property in question.

Ques 2. Write long note on jurisdiction of civil courts.

Jurisdiction of civil courts is defined as the limit of judicial authority or extent to which a court of law can exercise its authority over suits of civil nature.

There are two basic principles of jurisdiction, firstly, "principle of kompetenz kompetenz" it means that civil court itself has the competency to decide its own competency and secondly is "grant of jurisdiction to any court is a legislative function". By virtue of both these principles party cannot grant or take away the jurisdiction of court. Section 9 of the Code of civil procedure provides a civil court has jurisdiction to try all suits of a civil nature unless its cognizance is either expressly or impliedly barred by any statute. Civil court decide suits on the basis of their jurisdiction which are classified as follow –

Pecuniary jurisdiction, the word "pecuniary" related to money. So, pecuniary jurisdiction refers to the power of court to decide suits that are within its monetary limits. Section 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure provides that every court has its pecuniary limit. The court cannot decide or hear suits the subject matter of which exceeds the pecuniary limit, however decree passed without pecuniary jurisdiction is valid but irregular. As per section 15 of the said Code provides that every suit shall be instituted in the court of the lowest grade competent to try it.

Territorial jurisdiction, under this territorial or local jurisdiction, the geographical limits of a court's authority are clearly specified. Every court has its own local or territorial limits beyond which it cannot exercise its jurisdiction. These limits are fixed by the government. The district judge has to exercise jurisdiction within his district and not outside it. The High Court has jurisdiction over the territory of a state within which it is situated and not beyond it. A court has no jurisdiction to try a suit for immovable property situated beyond its local limits.

Jurisdiction as to subject matter, the subject matter can be defined as the authority vested in a court to understand and try cases concerning a special type of subject matter. In other words, it means that some courts are banned from hearing cases of a certain nature.

Handwritten Notes

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts

There are 2 basic principles of jurisdiction - Competency & Competency - Kompetenz.

1. Principle of Kompetenz - Kompetenz
This principle says that the court itself has the competency to decide its own competency.

example -
A v. B in Court X
A files suit against B in Court X
B says that this suit is beyond the competency of this Court. This suit is not maintainable before Court X.
So this should be dismissed.
Now the question arises as to who will decide whether the suit is maintainable before this court or not? or
Who will decide -
Ans. The court itself will decide its own competency.

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts
Primary jurisdiction Sec 6, 15, 3
Sec 21, 21A
Territorial jurisdiction Sec 16-20
21, 21A
Subject matter jurisdiction Sec 9

* Bar on jurisdiction

Res Subjudice
Res Judicata
Sec 12, Order 2 R.2.

2. Grant of jurisdiction/competency is a statutory function.
Legislation grants jurisdiction to any court to decide whether it can try such suit.
Law confers jurisdiction.

Q1. Can parties by mutual agreement/consent/acquiescence grant jurisdiction to a court?
Ans - No. the parties cannot do so.

example A and B
• There is a dispute between parties A and B.
• They decide among themselves to file suit in Court X.
• Both A & B with mutual consent files suit in Court X.
• Does this mean that Court X will get the jurisdiction to try the suit?
No.
as the parties cannot grant jurisdiction to any court, neither can the parties take away jurisdiction of any court because this will be against the public policy of the Indian Contract Act. Such type of agreements will be void.

Chandi Charan Das v. Anula Bala Devi (1955) (All HC)

Suits Valuation Act, 1937

A files suit against B for passing mandatory injunction to get the photo.

What is the value of suit? Value is important to find because it will tell in which court the suit can be filed.

Though Suits Valuation Act, value of suit will be decided by valuation of suit, the following is decided -

(ii) court fees
